

April

First Week of Career Month: Workshops

Build a Resume that SHINES with Ariel Bloomer
Tuesday, April 2nd | 12:30-1:30pm | SU 323/Gallery

Whether you are writing a resume for the first time or updating your resume for your next career move, you'll want a resume that stands out (in a good way). In this workshop, we'll cover the basics: the things absolutely every resume should have, and the optional things that might depend on industry. We'll talk about tailoring your resume to the job you are applying for, and why you should be altering your resume for each job application. The goal is for you to leave this presentation more confident in how you are showcasing the skills, knowledge, and experiences you are developing inside and outside the classroom.

How to Find the Clues to Your Ideal Career: The Process of Searching for Jobs with Stuart Meyer
Wednesday, April 3rd | 12:30-1:30pm | SU 323/Gallery

Are you seeking a fulfilling career? Come join Stuart Meyer who will walk you through effective job search methods to find your ideal job. Through fun exercises and interactive activities, he will guide you in identifying your strongest interests, greatest strengths, and most important work preferences. This workshop will help you discover the keys to your career satisfaction while also presenting you with the practical skills to find and secure job opportunities.

Understanding Your Personality Preferences Using Myers-Briggs to Enhance Your Career and Relationships with Stuart Meyer
Thursday, April 4th | 12:30-1:30pm | SU 323/Gallery

If you want to improve your relationships and career success, come to this informative workshop to uncover the core personality traits that guide your decisions and interactions. Stuart Meyer will show you how to use the Myers-Briggs framework as a tool to gain an understanding of how you process information and identify the unique aspects of your personality. The Myers-Briggs framework utilizes personality preference pairs such as Extraversion vs. Introversion and Judging vs. Perceiving to determine your personality type. Knowing your personality type can benefit you in your career choice, work style, and even your relationships, so come join us to discover the keys to your future success!

Get ready for the Career Fair on April 10th!